

Attention

...Spouses or surviving spouses of active duty, retired, guard or reserve members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard...

Do you want to enhance your career marketability while improving your personal financial management skills? Military families need financial counselors who understand the unique challenges they face, including duty station changes and deployments around the world!

The Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education® (AFCPE®)

in partnership with the

National Military Family Association (NMFA)

and the

NASD Investor Education Foundation, is pleased to announce the

Military Spouse Fellowship for the Accredited Financial CounselorSM Program

Through this fellowship program, 200 civilian military spouses will receive the education necessary for entry into the financial counseling field. The self-study program takes up to eighteen months to complete. Upon successful completion of the educational, testing and experience requirements, the participant will be awarded the Accredited Financial Counselor designation from AFCPE.

For more information or to apply for one of the 200 fellowships, log onto www.nmfa.org and click on Military Spouse Fellowship for the Accredited Financial Counselor Program! Applications will only be accepted on-line and must be received on or before February 14, 2006.

...At home self-paced study program so you set your study hours around your schedule...

...Regularly scheduled teleconference Study Sessions...

...Proctored exams
using online format...

Job Opportunities can be found in:

Armed forces family/community service agencies
Bankruptcy courts
Banks and savings and loan associations
College financial aid offices
Community programs for the elderly/low income workers
Consumer credit counseling services
Consumer finance companies
Cooperative Extension services
Corporate and government employee assistance programs
Corporate credit departments
Credit bureaus
Credit collection agencies
Credit unions
Divorce mediation firms
Employee benefits counseling firms
Family service agencies
Federal Home Administration
Hospitals
Housing and urban development offices
Insurance companies
Juvenile and domestic relations courts
Labor unions
Law firms
Loan associations
Mental health associations
Ministerial organizations
Mortgage lenders
Mutual fund companies
Social welfare agencies

The Military Spouse Fellowship for the Accredited Financial Counselor Program is made possible through the generosity of the NASD Investor Education Foundation, whose mission is to provide investors with high-quality, easily accessible information and tools to better understand the markets and the basic principles of saving and investing. One of the NASD Foundation's major initiatives is a multi-faceted financial education program targeted at members of the military and their families. This fellowship program, administered by AFCPE—the nationally recognized certifying agency for financial counselors—is part of that initiative.

